

Statsbygg runs and maintains government property. We develop environmentally-friendly and specially designed buildings for government institutions such as museums, colleges, prisons and embassies.

Statsbygg is the Norwegian government's property developer. This means that we plan, quality-assure, budget and follow up on construction projects on behalf of the government.

Statsbygg is a public enterprise under the Ministry of Local Government and Modernisation.

Statsbygg manages and operates 2,300 buildings, spread across 600 sites at home and abroad.

We also offer government institutions advice on buying and leasing premises.

In all parts of our business we shall safeguard socio-political objectives relating to architecture, governmental planning interests, preservation of heritage sites and the environment.

– 2.8 million square metres spread across 2,300 buildings at home and abroad

– 120 ongoing construction projects

– 910 employees

– The head office is situated in Oslo and there are regional offices in Oslo, Porsgrunn, Bergen, Trondheim and Tromsø

Photo: Østfold University College, Remmen Architect: Reiulf Ramstad Arkitekter AS.
Photographer: Thomas Bjørnflaten